

Introduction

Teenwork Partners (TWP) was established in June 2025 by a successful business professional, non-profit leader, and mother of two teenagers. Backed by a dedicated Board of Directors, the organization brings together education, business, and community expertise to create real opportunities for youth and employers alike.

At TWP, we are building a community of educators, parents, professionals, and mentors dedicated to helping teens build bright futures. We connect young people with the training, skills, and support they need to succeed in the workplace — and give employers access to motivated, job-ready talent.

Together with schools, businesses, and community partners, we're bridging the gap between education and employment — creating opportunities for every teen to shine.

Our Mission

Teenwork Partners empowers youth from diverse backgrounds—including those from underserved communities—by equipping them with the training, skills, and support needed to thrive in the workplace. Through this work, teens build confidence and become an asset to employers: job-ready, motivated, and prepared to make an immediate impact.

Our Programs

Teenwork Partners' work is built around five pillar programs designed to prepare teens for success in the workplace and help businesses build strong, more reliable workforces:

1. Professional Development Training – Teens progress through three levels of training, earning certifications in key workforce skills such as communication, professionalism, leadership, and collaboration.
2. Mentorship & Job Matching – Certified teens are paired with mentors and gain access to exclusive job boards and volunteer placements.
3. Business Partnership Solutions – We partner with employers through a membership model that strengthens hiring, onboarding, and retention while connecting them with certified, job-ready teens.
4. Teen Advisory Council – A group of youth leaders who help shape TWP programs, serve as ambassadors, and develop their own leadership and career skills.
5. Career Exposure & Networking – Job fairs, panels, and industry events connect teens directly with local professionals and employers.

How Your Sponsorship Will Help Us

Your sponsorship directly fuels Teenwork Partners' mission to empower teens and strengthen workplaces. Contributions help us expand our reach, cover program materials, pay qualified instructors, and provide scholarships for deserving students. Sponsorships also help us spread the word—building awareness in the community and connecting more teens with the training, mentoring, and opportunities they need to succeed.

In lieu of a sponsorship, we also accept donations via gift cards, services, event tickets, and goods. All help to support our programming, by allowing us to focus on what matters - the material and our teens!
